

The Key
Inspiring belief in young people

About The Key

The Key began life in 1992 when an ambitious group of youth workers in the North East decided more needed to be done to find a better way to engage hard to reach young people and support them to develop their life skills.

While our approach has evolved over 20 years and we've expanded our reach, we are proud to have kept the same framework at the core of our service. We are now looking forward to a brighter future with bigger ideas as we work together so more young people can believe in their ideas and take responsibility for living them.
